PARTY OR PLAIN SENSE

In the course of an able editorial on state expenses the Burlington Free Press says:

"It is to be added, however, that as regards all these recommendations the initiative must be taken by the voters through their political organ nations. It would naturally fall to the republicans as the party in pow er to start this reform and insist up dontion of such change will bring economy without impairing the effici mey of the public service."

Why should we make this a party matter? It has always seemed to The funner that in plain business mat ters party lines ought not to have egislature is probably the most near ly non-partisan governmental body in the country. There are whole ses and we can see no reason why Reoutliteans, Democrata and Progres sives should not work together, both in the legislature and cut, to bring about desirable results.

It is customary and natural to blame the party in the majority for legislative enactments, but in Vernone it is largely an aendemic theory not borne out by the facts in a large majority of cases. For instance, the present double ourt system in use in Ve most was gotten through the legislature largely by the hard work and brilliant ora tory of Hon, John H. Senter the well against the earnest opposition of the chief republican floor leader in the House at that session, Frank C. Ar chibald of Manchester. In actual facout of ten would say offhanthat the responsibility was all on the Ropublicans, as they had a large mafority in the legislature.

Deerfield Power Company Starts a New Dam

The Power Construction Co., which milt the big dam at Somerset, is lanning to build another big dam in the Deerfield valley and to that end s constructing an electric rathroad terials, thereby saving largely from what it would have to pay the steam railroad in freight charges. The North Adams Herald tells the story of the plans as follows:

"Of all the construction w unde taken in this section of the state the building of the new electric road from House Tannel station up the Deerfield valley to the opposite side of the river from the steam roud is attracting most attention. Every speed, and while the force has been at work only about ten days, pheomenal progress has been made.

"The road is owned and will be perated by the Power Construction company, which is the contracting and building company for the New England Power company, the same iam at Peck's.

"At the present time the road is being built as a private enterprise of he power company, to transmit their in anticipation of the construction of another huge dam somewhere between Whitingham and Hoosac Tunnel. Refere it can carry passengers, or otherwise compele with the steam road, outside of its own hauling it will be necessary to ger a charter from the state, and so far this has not been attempted.

"The main purpose in building this road to date has been with the idea. any could hant their freight cheaper thomselves than have it transported on the Hoosue Tunnel and Willming ton and since ground was broken a short time ugo about 600 men have been our at work rushing their road ready to make a statement whether or not they are going to put W
